

Burlington Wildways

Perennial Interns

Who We Are

We are Burlington Wildways first perennial interns seeking to find creative and holistic ways to manage non native invasive species! We are constantly searching for ways to connect several spheres of life such as community, food insecurity, and land stewardship together to combat the growing issue regarding these plants.

Libby Rhodes

Junior

Environmental Studies

Community & International Development

Marjorie McWilliams

Senior

Natural Resource Planning

Community & International Development

Nora Laymon

Senior

Wildlife & Fisheries Biology

Fair Share CSA

Goutweed Experiments

Goats

Weeding with Volunteers

Intervale Conservation Nursery

Gleaning

